

"Do you approve of the Constitution?

Yes _____

No _____"

The ballot was written in English and in the local languages spoken in the district concerned.

8. Voting and declaration of results

The vote took place on 12 July 1978. Six members of the United

The Mission accepted the invitation and a member of the Mission, accompanied by the Principal Secretary visited Balau to observe the

In 1946, New Zealand began to transmit information on the Territory in accordance with Chapter XI, Article 73 e of the Charter. New Zealand administered the island until 1974, when the people of Niue voted for self-government in free association with New Zealand.

2. Determination of time and circumstances

In 1973, the United Nations Working Group on Niue concluded

4. Organization and conduct of the referendum

Referendum Ordinance No. 85 of 1974 provided that those entitled to vote in the referendum should, subject to exception, include all those eligible to vote in a general election in New and July

Notes

1/ Official Records of the General Assembly Volume 1

2/ Resolution 860 (IX) of 14 December 1954

3/ Official Records

19/ See Official Records of the Trusteeship Council,
Forty-sixth Session, Supplement No. 2 (T/1795), para. 91.

Annex

PLEBISCITES, REFERENDUMS AND ELECTIONS
HELD UNDER THE SUPERVISION OR OBSERVATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Year	Territory	Documentary reference
------	-----------	-----------------------

Year	Territory	Documentary references
1968	Equatorial Guinea: referendum/	Ibid., Twenty-third Session,

