

Statement on behalf of the European Union and its Member States

By

Thomas Ramopoulos, First Secretary, Delegation of the European Union to the United Nations

At the Sixth Committee

Thirdly, non-compliance with the rule of law and human rights has a direct practical impact on international law enforcement cooperation, for example by hindering the exchange of information or preventing extraditions. Therefore,