

- Major concerns/fears, challenges and vulnerabilities of graduating and recently graduated countries from the Asia-Pacific region.
- How can the Sustainable Graduation Support Facility (SGSF) help these countries address their fears/concerns, challenges and vulnerabilities and the critical gap that exists - dedicated capacity development support for graduating and graduated countries?
- Concrete support measures that need to form part of the new programme of action - necessary to help these countries build their capacity and resilience to achieve sustainable and irreversible graduation thresholds
